

E x c e e d i n g Expectations. Saving Lives.

Community
TISSUE SERVICES®

Wilson Named to "Ten Top Women" List

Diane Wilson, chief operating officer for Community Tissue Services, was recently named one of the "Ten Top Women" of the Miami Valley. For 48 years, the Dayton Daily News has honored outstanding community leaders who have made a significant impact on life in the Miami Valley. Wilson is pictured with David Smith, CEO of Community Blood Center/Community Tissue Services.

Significant Gifts Received

We are grateful to those who support our mission of saving and enhancing lives with a charitable donation. Special thanks for recent gifts from:

- Our very own... Mark and Christina Graham (Mark is our IT manager, based in Dayton), and Christopher Graham (Chris is our national marketing manager, based in Ft. Worth), who recently pledged a $20,000 gift to name a conference room in the new Center. We are so excited to have this special commitment from our employees!
- Battelle and Battelle, whose pledge names the "Donate Life" flag and flagpole.
- The Weston Wabash Foundation for their grant of $75,000 – special thanks to Nick Hollenkamp, who is a local attorney and a trustee for the Foundation, for his efforts in securing this significant gift.
- The Steve Mason Family.

Good Luck to the Hoehns!

Jim and Leslie Hoehn are leaving Dayton as Jim accepts a new position with PNC as the regional president of PNC's Financial Services Group in Central Pennsylvania. The Hoehns recently hosted a reception for Community Tissue Services to tell their friends about the life saving and enhancing work of Community Tissue Services, which will be expanded at the Center for Tissue, Innovation and Research. Jim also served on the steering committee for the campaign for the new Center. We wish them the very best in their new venture.

Naming Opportunities Still Available

Don't miss out on your chance to leave a lasting legacy in your community – the new Center for Tissue, Innovation and Research is fast becoming a reality – secure your naming opportunity soon. Please contact David Smith, CEO, at 937.461.3610 or Joy Rogers, Foundation Executive Director, at 937.461.3266 for further information. You may access the naming opportunities brochure above... or visit the web site at www.communitytissue.org.

Campaign Newsletter Late Fall 2010

Published by The Foundation for Community Blood Center/Community Tissue Services

Finalist for Business of the Year!

The Dayton Business Journal sponsors an annual Business of the Year awards program which highlights the Dayton area's most outstanding businesses, organizations and executives. Community Blood Center/Community Tissue Services was recognized as a finalist for the not-for-profit business of the year for 2010.

The Results Thus Far!

Gifts/pledges:
$966,500

Requests pending:
$1,425,000

Happy Holidays!

To all, we wish a warm and wonderful holiday season and peace, prosperity and good health in the New Year!

For more information call Joy Rogers, Foundation Executive Director at 937.461.3266, or visit the web site at www.communitytissue.org to see construction progress through the Web Cam!

